

Windows users: Right-click the image below to save it to your computer.

DISCLAIMER: All information on this website is provided as "recommended procedures" and should be utilized as such. The Arizona Flight Training Workgroup (AFTW) members (collectively or individually) and the owner/manager of this website will not be held liable for any accident, incident, pilot deviation, or any other damages that may occur as a result of following the recommendations found within this site. Per FAA regulations, the Pilot In Command (PIC) has final and complete responsibility in these matters.